

BOOGIE@BUNDARRA STORY WRITING COMPETITION ENTRY FORM CLOSING DATE 31/07/09

Closing Date 31st July 2009

WINNERS ANNOUNCED 5TH SEPTEMBER 2009

Judge Mark Svendsen
Author of

His novel SNIGGER JAMES ON GREY was highly praised when it appeared in 2000 and was cited as a "Notable Book" in the CBC awards. It is a lyrical novel set in contemporary Australia but with many yarns of another, older Australia long gone , a place of farms and hard yakka. The observations of teenage life and teenage problems are wry and pointed and the awkwardness of friendships under pressure is well detailed.

POISON UNDER THEIR LIPS, set in the Queensland of 1876 is the story of Arthur Wilbraham, a young well educated and idealistic Christian who comes from South Australia to the new Colony of Queensland to help save the natives. His novel, is an unsettling account of the disbursement of "troublesome blacks" by the Queensland Native Police.

CIRCUS CARNIVORE An explosion of words in extravagant fonts, of machines full of cogs and flues and bizarre characters who not only operate the machines but seem to be part of them: this is the Noise-a-matron that lives in the head of a wayward child and spouts out "noxious words" whenever she's feeling "pernickety". When her parents, those Dullundrears, forbid her tantrums the whole caboodle has to find other employment, so they turn into the Circus Carnivore and disport themselves in a range of exotic and amazing acts. Svendsen's nonsense verse is loud and swashbuckling.

WHACKO THE CHOOK is one of his latest works
